WEDNESDAY, April 10, 1751.

HAGUE, December 25.

OUR last Letters from Paris say, that the French Commissaries for settling the Limits in America with Great Britain, had proposed to the English that as their Court delay'd sending their final Instructions concerning the Regulation of the Limits in Nova Scotia, they might in the mean Time enter upon the Discussion of the Right of Sovereignty to the Caribbee Islands. But the English Commissaries rejected the Proposition. Advices from London intimate, that the British Ministry do not seem in the least uneasy that the King of Prussia persists in his Resolution not to give his Vote for the Archduke Joseph to be King of the Romans, as they are sure of a Majority in favour of that young Prince.

Extract of a Letter from Brest, Nov. 5.

"Since the 28th of last Month upwards of 50 Vessels are come into this Harbour, from Sweden and other Parts of the North, laden with Lumber and other Materials for the Royal Navy. Our Yards and Magazines are now full, that we have Materials enough, not only to finish the Men of War, Frigates, and Bomb Ketches on the Stocks, but also to begin to build more, as soon as the Court shall please to send down Orders."

Paris, December 11. "'Tis said that the Marquis de Puiseux has lately intimated to the Earl of Albemarle, that the Proceedings of the Subjects of Great Britain, against the Indians attached to the French in Nova Scotia, are regarded as a Breach of the Tranquility subsisting between the two Crowns. No doubt in it: And such things often expected have more important Intimations."

Edinburgh, Nov. 20. "We are told that the Herring Fishery at the Lewis hath been very successful for three Weeks past, there being no fewer than 500 Boats in the Gareoch Bay on the 13th Instant."

Edinburgh, Dec. 23. "Tuesday last the Remainder of the 10000 l. Subscription for the Fishing Chamber of this City was filled up, and several have subscribed since."

Dublin, Nov. 30. "Yesterday arrived here the Packet-Boat from Holyhead, with the Mail from London of the 24th Instant, N. S. which is the first Mail that has been received here since the 17th Instant, O. S. by Reason of contrary Winds."

November 30. "It may be difficult to understand what may be meant by settling the Limits between the English and French Dominions in North America, which is a Part of the Business of the Commissaries at Paris; it may not be amiss to observe, that by the old Names of Acadia and Nova Scotia, given to the Country now established under the last of them, the whole Tract of Land between the Rivers of St. Lawrence North-West, to the Atlantic Ocean South-East, was always understood by our Fathers; and that with Respect to the more Southern British Provinces, the Royal Grants and Charters prescribed no Western Limits but the Pacific Ocean, or Great South-Sea. The only Question, therefore, which can properly be debated with Regard to the British Empire in America, are such as those, viz.

By what Right the French presume to draw a Line (as they do in all their Maps) through Nova Scotia from North-East to South-West, whereby they claim the greatest Part of that Province to themselves, under the Names of Gaspesia and Canada?

How they came by their vast Country of Louisiana, which lies on the Back of our Southern Provinces, according to them, but according to the Royal Grants and Charters given here, as above-mentioned, is for the most Part included in the Dominions of Great Britain? &c. &c. &c.

December 1. The Besborough Galley, Dawes, from Jamaica, founder'd at her Anchors in Dublin Bay on the 30th past, and the Crew and Pilot all perished.

We hear that in the ensuing Sessions of Parliament, a Prohibition will be laid on all Velvets and Silks that are imported from abroad, and are daily sold here for our own Manufactures, to the great Detriment of our Trade at home and abroad.

December 20. Letters from Paris inform us, that a Courier was arrived from the Marquis de Mirepoix with Advice, that the Lords of the Admiralty of England had reduced the French Courts Claim of 236660 Livres Tournois for transporting the English Garrison of Louisburg to Nova-Scotia, to 3794 L. Sterling, observing the same Proportion with regard to the French, which these observed with regard to the English, on Occasion of the transporting the French Garrison of Louisburg to Europe. These Letters add, that the Small-Pox rages greatly at Paris, and in other Parts of France.

Last Friday died at his Seat at Wentworth Woodhouse in the County of York, the Right Hon. Thomas Watson Wentworth, Marquis and Baron of Rockingham, Earl of Malton, and Baron of Higham-Ferrers, Lord Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of the North and West Ridings of Yorkshire, and Knight of the Bath. These Titles let Heralds proclaim. Let this Paper publish his inherent Nobility, his Justice unbiassed, and Honour unblemished, his humble yet elevated Soul, his honest and open Heart, his gentle and generous Manners, his courteous and candid Temper, his boundless Generosity, his universal Benevolence, and shew the World the Great in the more amiable Picture of the Good Man: In him the Church had the Clergy have lost a kind and constant Patron, the King a most loyal Subject and a steadfast and powerful Friend, and the Nation a true Patriot. Whilst some have been vainly disputing about the Name of Patriotism, he lived the real Character. Witness his distinguished and ever memorable Behaviour during the late Rebellion, in which trying Time he spared neither his Purse nor his Person in the common Cause, but looked upon his own private Ease, Health, Time, and Treasure as unworthy his Attention or Regard, so long as the Public was in Danger. A Conduct more glorious, an Example more happily influential in that wide extended County wherein he resided, in that his Lordship's noble Fortune neither had nor wanted any Accession or Increase from civil Promotions or lucrative Employments. So far the Death of that truly Great Man is to be lamented as a national Loss. The County of York will feel it more sensibly, especially that Part of it which lay contiguous to his Lordship's stately and hospitable Seat, and which thereby enjoyed all the Advantages derived from such a Situation, without suffering any of the inconveniencies which have been sometimes found to attend it. His Superiority made him not a worse, but a better Neighbour. His Power was great, but greater his Justice, and greatest of all his Charity. In short, such a Heart to do Good, joined with such a Capacity of doing it, would render the Loss of that noble Lord insupportable to Thousands, was it not for the comfortable Prospect that his Son, the present Marquis of Rockingham, the Inheritor of his Father's Estate and Titles, will also inherit his Virtues and Perfections.

On Sunday last died, at Havering in Essex, Jonah Collins, aged 112. He has left one Son now resident in the said Parish upwards of 70 Years of Age, and a Grandson near 50.

Dec. 28. The King has been pleased to grant the Dignity of Earl and Baron of the Kingdom of Ireland to Charles Wentworth, Esq; (eldest Son of the late Marquis of Rockingham) by the Name, Stile and Title of Earl and Baron of Malton in the County of Wicklow.

There is Advice from Leghorn, that three Barbary Corsairs were cast away in the tempestuous Weather; one on the Coast of Sardinia, another at Giglio, and the third near Longona.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Kingston, Jamaica, to his Friend in Philadelphia, dated January 8, 1750[1].

You may, probably, e'er now, have heard of the unhappy Fate of the Doctors Williams and Bennet here: But as the Motives which induced the Quarrel, may not be known to you and others in Philadelphia (the conſtant Subject of Converſation amongſt us) I ſend you the following Account, which may be depended on. Dr. Williams, about ſix Months ago, publiſhed An Eſſay on the Bilious Fever of this Iſland; which, tho' indeed not ſo compleat a Performance as might have been expected from a Man of Learning and Experience, yet was full of juſt Reaſoning, and propoſed a Method of Cure in general good, and ſupported with that ſtrongeſt of Arguments, great Succeſs in Practice. Dr. Bennet, a Gentleman born at Montſerrat, had his Education in Great Britain, commenced Phyſician in France, and came to Jamaica, not above three Months before Dr. Williams's Eſſay was printed; ſoon after the Publication of which, Dr. Bennet gave us a Pamphlet, intituled, An Enquiry into the Eſſay, &c. It conſiſted chiefly of Ridicule, diſcover'd little of the learning of its Author, and (I need not ſay) was not founded on Experience. Dr. Williams neglected the Enquiry for a conſiderable Time, but at length publiſhed in the Courant a Poetic Epiſtle, addreſſed to Colonel Price[1] in which, among other ſevere Lines againſt Bennet, are the following:

Unhappy NORTON fell beneath his Skill,
The firſt Attempt, alaſ! he made to kill.

After this ſeveral Pieces were publiſhed in the Courant, particularly a Letter by Bennet to the Author of the Verſes addreſſed to Colonel Price. Williams, after ſome Time, publiſhed a Letter to Bennet in which he proved, by the Teſtimony of others, many groſs Falſities in Bennet's; and this he did in a Manner that Juſtice to his own Character ſeem'd to require. I ſhall not (nor indeed will Time allow me) to trouble you with a Detail of the many Circumſtances of this Affair. Provok'd by ſome Paſſages in Williams's Letter, Bennet on Saturday went to Williams at a Store in Kingſton, and calling him aſide, endeavour'd to throw a Box of Snuff in his Eyes; upon which a Scuffle enſued, and Williams got the Advantage. A Magiſtrate thereupon (ſuſpecting the Conſequence) ſent for Williams, but did not bind him over, taking his Parole of Honour that he would not accept a Challenge, if Bennet ſhould offer one, nor would fight a Duel with him, if he could avoid it. In the Evening of the ſame Day, two or three Challenges, without Name were ſent to Dr. Williams, who did not think proper to take Notice of Papers unſubſcribed. The next Morning, between four and five a Clock, ſeveral Perſons (it is ſaid three) whereof Bennet was one, knocked at the Door at Dr. Williams's Houſe, but were otherwiſe ſo ſilent, that tho' Williams ſeveral Times called to know who they were, he received no Anſwer; upon which, taking his Piſtols with him, he went down, and opened the Door, and ſeeing three Perſons diſcharged one of the Piſtols, which was loaded with Pidgeon Shot, amongſt them, and preſently the ſecond; but neither of them did any perceivable Injury: Then they went on the other Side the Street, Williams followed, and Bennet and he drew their Swords, and after ſome Paſſes, Williams entered Bennet on the right Side, and came out of the left; whereupon Bennet fell, and Williams immediately received a Wound, which entered at the upper Part of the left Breaſt, and came out at the right Shoulder Blade, of which he inſtantly died: But from whom he receiv'd this Wound, is Matter of great Speculation and uncertain Conjecture, occaſioned by the Manner in which it was given. Bennet ſurvived two Hours, in which Time he did not reproach Williams with any ungenteel Conduct; neither have I heard of any Wound by Ball (as it has been reported he receiv'd) diſcovered on Bennet's Body. Many white People were Spectators of this tragical Scene, who did not offer to interpoſe. Their Accounts of the Matter are very various, and each has differed from himſelf ſince the Time it happened. The Negroes, who were preſent, give ſtrange Accounts of it. Upon the whole, it is the prevailing Opinion that Williams was deliberately m——d, from the Manner in which he was killed, and the Sword having never appeared, with which it is ſaid the mortal Wound was given. This Affair has added to the well known Heat of Parties here, ſome taking up the Defence of Bennet's, and others of Williams's Conduct.——That it may not be productive of more Miſchief, is the wiſh of,

Yours &c.

GROLIUS.

ANNAPOLIS.

We hear that Sarah Bevers was lately tried at the ſpecial Court in Cecil County for the Murder of her Baſtard Child, and found Guilty.

The two Negro Women condemn'd at our laſt County Court, are to be Executed here on Friday next.

On Monday Evening laſt the Dwelling Houſe of the Widow Wooden, near Weſt River, took Fire, occaſioned by a Candle falling among ſome Cotton or Flax, and burnt down to the Ground, with almoſt every Thing in it.

The Man mentioned in our laſt to be found murder'd in Baltimore County, was prov'd to be, (as was ſuppos'd) Donald M'Kennie, Mr. Diggs's Overſeer, and the Perſon ſuſpected to be the Murderer is Daniel Sullivan, an Iriſh Convict, who was taken up in Cecil County, and is now brought to Town, and in our Goal, in order for his Trial.

This Day came on before the Honourable the Judges of the Provincial Court now ſitting, the Trial of Jeremiah Smith, who murdered two of his Maſter's Children at Elk Ridge, in this County, on the 14th of March paſt, and knock'd down and almoſt kill'd the third. He was at work in the Field with John and Benjamin Hatherly, his Maſter's Sons, one of them twelve, the other about ten Years of Age, when one of them aſk'd him if he thought he could make a Thouſand Hills before Night, for they were making Hills for Tobacco; he told the Boy he would let him know before Night, and immediately, without the leaſt Provocation, ſtruck John on the Head with his Hoe, and knock'd him down, and then repeated his Blows 'till he kill'd him on the Spot: Little Benjamin ſeeing his poor Brother thus butcher'd, and expecting the ſame Fate, ran from him to the Diſtance of about 60 or 80 Yards where he was ſtopp'd by a Fence, and there the Villain overtook him, and with the ſame Hoe, knock'd him down, ſo that he could remember no more; for he was left for dead; but after ſome Time recover'd, and is now ſo well as to appear in Court as an Evidence; but his Skull on the back of the Head is dented in almoſt as deep, and full as large, as a Saucer, and he loſt a vaſt deal of Blood. From the Field the Villain went to the Houſe, and there with a Knife ſtabb'd Elizabeth Hatherly, a Girl of about 14 Years of Age, in ſeveral Places, and then with an Axe gave her ſeveral Blows on the Head, which kill'd her, but ſhe did not die immediately, for there were ſome Signs of Life in her when her Father and Mother came home at Night; for they had that Day been to a Funeral at ſome Diſtance. Their Trouble and Diſtreſs on this melancholy and ſhocking ſight, is eaſier to be conceiv'd than expreſs'd. Bruſh Leonard Hatherly, another Child, about 9 Years of Age, who appear'd in Court to witneſs againſt the Murderer, being in the Houſe, endeavoured to help his Siſter, and took hold of the Knife, telling him not to kill Bet; but he pluck'd the Knife (which happen'd to be dull) thro' the Child's Hand, which cut him in ſeveral Places. After he had perpetrated theſe atrocious Murders, he made off, and got a few Miles from the Houſe, but Vengeance purſued him, and he was ſoon taken up, and ſecured in Goal. He was arraign'd upon one Indictment only, which was for the Murder of Elizabeth, to which, on Trial he pleaded Not Guilty; but the Evidence againſt him was ſo full and explicit, that the Jury did not tarry two Minutes before they brought him in Guilty.

By Letters from London, which came by the way of Virginia, we hear, That the Granier's Supply, Capt. Hooper, was got ſafe Home.——That the Experiment, Capt. Cranage was ſafe arriv'd in St. George's Channel.——That Capt. Seignick, in the Friendſhip, and three of his Men, were waſh'd overboard; the three Men drowned, but he was ſaved.——A Gentleman writes in a Letter of December 31. "The Nep-
"tune, Biggs, is put into Briſtol, I hear, with the Loſs of
"Five Hands and Two of his Maſts."
